Case No.: 2:21-cv-00750-RSL

Plaintiffs respectfully move the Court to request an opportunity to oppose Defendants' Motion for Leave to File an Over-length Motion For Summary Judgment filed on July 29, 2024 ("Defendants' Motion"). See ECF No. 270.

Under the Local Rules of the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington ("Local Rules"), Defendants are entitled to file a summary judgment motion containing up to 8,400 words (or twenty-four pages) and a reply brief containing up to 4,200 words (or twelve pages). Local Rules W.D. Wash. LCR 7(e)(3). Defendants now request 42,000 words (120 pages) for their opening summary judgment motion—five times the amount provided by the Local Rules. See id.

Plaintiffs respectfully request an opportunity to explain why they oppose Defendants' excessive request, which contemplates over 300 pages of briefing (not to mention whatever voluminous exhibits Defendants intend to rely on) on issues that directly overlap with the issues before the Court on Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification. Regarding the opposition, Plaintiffs respectfully request leave to file a two-page opposition within three days should the Court grant Plaintiffs' request. More specifically, putting aside that Defendants' Motion lacks any detail and makes only conclusory statements supporting the need to file a 120-page motion, Defendants seek to raise arguments that will likely be duplicative of Defendants' challenges to typicality and adequacy forthcoming in their opposition to Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification, which Plaintiffs will explain should occur first. See, e.g., Centeno v. Quigley, 2015 WL 432537, at *3 (W.D. Wash. Feb. 2, 2015) (noting that, under the one-way intervention rule, a "summary judgment motion is premature prior to class certification"). Moreover, if Defendants file a summary judgment motion before Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification is decided, Defendants will likely request a later opportunity to file an additional motion for summary judgment resulting in further waste of judicial resources.

1	Plaintiffs also write to request a status con	ference. There are several open issues that will
2	impact the pending and forthcoming motions in th	is case. First, the Court is currently reviewing
3	a sampling of Defendants' clawed-back document	s. See ECF No. 269. Second, the Court also
4	recently allowed Plaintiffs' expert, Dr. Serge Egel	man, to review Defendants' "HIGHLY
5	CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS' EYES ONLY" documents. See ECF No. 263. Dr. Egelman
6	may submit a supplemental report in further support of Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification.
7	See id. Finally, the outcomes of these matters, as well as the outcome of Plaintiffs' Motion for
8	Class Certification, may narrow the issues that the parties may consider in any motions for
9	summary judgment.
10	For the reasons stated above, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court allow Plaintiffs
11	to file an opposition to Defendants' Motion and that the Court set a status conference.
